Browser sends GET request to the server

Server responds with 200 status (ok)

Javascript code (from spa.js) is executed in the browser along with main.css and data.json which together manipulate the contents of that page